

FITNESS TO PRACTISE PROCEDURE

Purpose

1. The Fitness to Practise Procedure applies to University of Suffolk students enrolled on courses which lead to professional registration and/or licence to practise and where Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) checks are normally required. These courses are likely to involve a practical professional placement as a required part of the course. Such courses include, but are not limited to, teaching, health professions, social work and counselling. Other courses may also be subject to this Procedure. Students on such courses have additional responsibilities placed upon them regarding their professional suitability, as outlined in the codes of practice of the relevant Professional, Statutory and Regulatory Body (PSRB). Failure to meet these requirements may lead to the Fitness to Practise Procedure being invoked. Students will be made aware if they are on a course covered by this Procedure through their Course Handbook and during induction to the course.

2. Concerns relating to a student's academic failure in practice should be dealt with through normal assessment procedures.

3. Fitness to Practise is the ability to meet the required professional standards, and is about demonstrating the skills, knowledge, character and health to practise the profession safely and effectively. The purpose of the Fitness to Practise Procedure is to enable the University to:

- ensure that students on a professional course are fit to practise in that profession, or will be when they complete the course;
- comply with the requirements of the PSRB codes of practice;
- protect present or future patients, clients, service users and members of the public, which includes protecting the welfare of, and taking all possible steps to prevent harm to, any individuals with whom the student comes into contact during their training;
- safeguard public confidence in the profession;
- ensure that students are not awarded a qualification that permits them to practise a profession if they are not fit to do so.

4. This Procedure is not intended to replace the Academic Misconduct Policy, Safeguarding Policy or Student Discipline Procedure, although the outcome of a case raised under these procedures might also raise issues of fitness to practise.

5. This Procedure operates in accordance with the Office of the Independent Adjudicator (OIA) Good Practice Framework: Fitness to Practise issued in October 2019.

Scope

6. Concerns about a student's fitness to practise may be raised from any source, including any member of staff, student, placement partner, member of the public, the Occupational Health Service or other agencies such as the Police, Social Services, or the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO). Normally the allegation will relate to behaviour whilst the student is on the Institution's premises or in attendance at a placement setting related to the course. However, if it is reasonably believed that a student's behaviour off site has damaged or compromised relevant professional standards, action may be taken in accordance with this Procedure.

7. Concerns about fitness to practise may involve a range of actions, inactions, or omissions where the student's ability to meet professional standards may be impaired. Examples of issues that may lead to fitness to practise concerns include, but are not limited to, the following:

- a. actions that have the potential to harm service users, other members of the public or service providers
- b. actions that are likely to constitute an unacceptable risk to the student or others
- c. failure to disclose information about previous matters relating to their professional suitability prior to registration on the course, including health, previous convictions and cautions
- d. academic misconduct (for example plagiarism, cheating in examinations, forging records) which raise concerns about professional issues such as lack of honesty or integrity rather than the academic offence itself
- e. inaccurate or falsified placement documentation
- f. other disciplinary offences (for example antisocial, abusive or threatening behaviour, sexual misconduct, violence, bullying or harassment, damage to property, internet access abuse, substance/alcohol abuse)
- g. contravention of the relevant professional code of conduct or actions that are prejudicial to the development or standing of professional practice
- h. health and safety breaches
- i. allegations of unprofessional or inappropriate behaviour including:
 - lack of respect, aggressive or poor attitude, laziness
 - indiscipline, failure to follow dress code, inappropriate use of mobile phone, poor time keeping, poor attendance
 - failure to self-reflect, lack of insight
 - failure to engage with investigations into unprofessional behaviour
 - poor self-management, lack of personal accountability
 - dishonesty

- breaking patient confidentiality
 - j. inappropriate behaviour away from the student's studies, including:
 - criminal convictions, for example for violence or an offence of dishonesty
 - disruptive behaviour in the community
 - inappropriate use of social media
 - k. safeguarding concerns
 - l. poor mental or physical health or serious physical impairment that interferes with the student's ability to practise safely
 - m. failure to seek help or engage with appropriate services, medical treatment or other support in relation to health issues, disability or wellbeing, or unreasonable failure to follow medical advice or care plans, and treatment resistant conditions which might impair fitness to practise. This does not include pre-existing medical conditions or disabilities that the student has already disclosed and where reasonable adjustments have been made to enable the student to access their study. Cases will be considered where disability prevents the student meeting the core competencies after adjustments have been considered or made, or where this has implications for the safety and protection of patients, clients and/or the students
 - n. unsafe practice, incompetence or requiring too much supervision. This includes allegations, primarily occurring in placement settings, of repeated failures to achieve competence despite opportunities to develop, practise and rectify faults including where, while each individual incident may be less serious on its own, a pattern has emerged which calls into question overall competence
 - o. poor communication or language skills.
8. In the case of concerns about post registration students, the Dean of School in consultation with the Academic Registrar shall determine whether to raise those concerns with the relevant PSRB and/or the student's employer.
9. In the event of alleged criminal activity or matters relating to the protection of children and vulnerable adults, refer to Appendix 1.

Commitments

10. In considering any allegations, appropriate attention will be paid to the requirements of the University's Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy. In particular, reasonable adjustments will be made for those with disabilities, specific learning difficulties or long-term medical conditions.

11. An allegation raising concern about fitness to practise is a serious and potentially defamatory one. Consequently it is essential that the proceedings should be conducted on the basis of strict confidentiality. All parties to the allegation and individuals who have been involved in any related investigation and/or the management and/or the administration of the allegation will observe the requirements for confidentiality. Whilst confidential information may need to be disclosed in order to consider the allegation, this will only be to those staff involved in the consideration of the allegation.

12. Where a person wishes to raise a concern about a student anonymously, for example under whistleblowing procedures, the University will normally take steps to identify the person in order to rule out the possibility that the concern is raised maliciously. Witnesses who are giving their professional opinion are not expected to be anonymous, and if a witness does not agree to the student knowing their identity it may not be appropriate to rely on their evidence. Where evidence comes from service users during a practice placement, it will be necessary to protect the confidentiality of the service users, particularly where those service users are children or vulnerable adults, and as such this may include anonymised witness statements.

13. All witnesses should be aware that their statements will be shared with the student and the panel should the case progress to formal stage (part 2). Witness statements will normally be in written format. However, where interviews are held via video-conferencing such as Teams, the meeting may be recorded providing all parties present consent to the recording. In such cases, written minutes of the meeting will be produced but the recording may also be made available to the student and panel on request (subject to the agreement of all parties) should the case progress to formal stage (part 2).

14. Students can access impartial and confidential advice from the Students' Union Advice Service and Student Life teams. They may also seek support from their PSRB if they are a member.

15. Once a fitness to practise procedure has been instigated, the University will endeavour to conclude the proceedings within 90 days. There may however be circumstances where this is not possible, for example due to the complexity of the case or availability of the student, witnesses or panel members. In such instances, the student will be kept informed and given a likely timescale for completion.

16. It is expected that students will engage with the fitness to practice procedures when required to do so. If a student fails to engage with the process without good reason and despite reasonable efforts by the Office for Student Appeals, Complaints and Conduct (OSACC) to seek engagement, the University will normally follow the procedure through to conclusion without additional input from the student. Where, for good reason, a student is unable to engage with the process (for example due to ill health) the student will normally be offered time away from their studies, and the fitness to practise proceedings will restart when they are able to return.

17. If a student withdraws themselves from their programme of study once fitness to practise proceedings have commenced, the University will normally follow the procedure through to conclusion. This is to ensure the completeness and accuracy of the University's record in the event that the student later wishes to undertake another professional course either at the University or at another institution, or a question arises about the proceedings or outcome.

PROCEDURE FOR DEALING WITH CONCERNS ABOUT A STUDENT'S FITNESS TO PRACTISE

18. Concerns about a student's fitness to practise are normally made through the completion of a Reporting a Cause for Concern Form, submitted to OSACC along with appropriate supporting evidence. OSACC will then forward the concern to the Dean of School (or equivalent), or their nominee, with responsibility for the course on which the student is enrolled. Concerns may also be raised through internal University processes, including but not limited to the Academic Misconduct Policy, Extenuating Circumstances Policy, Student Discipline Procedure and Safeguarding Policy, or as a result of DBS checking procedures.

19. Paragraphs 20 to 47 set out the normal route that fitness to practise concerns take. However, where the facts of the case have already been established (for example through the conclusion of a case under the Student Discipline Procedure, Academic Misconduct Policy or Safeguarding Policy, or as a result of a workplace investigation or criminal proceedings) it is not normally necessary to appoint an Investigating Officer and the case may proceed directly to formal stage (part 2). In such cases, the fitness to practise proceedings would not normally commence until the internal processes of the disciplinary, academic misconduct or safeguarding case have concluded, including the appeals process. It may however be appropriate for any immediate action to be taken in accordance with paragraph 20 in order to protect the student or others. Similarly, where the student is the subject of a workplace investigation relating to their fitness to practise or criminal proceedings, a Cause for Concern form should be submitted as soon as the workplace investigation is instigated or criminal proceedings begin to allow for any immediate action to be taken in accordance with paragraph 20, but the fitness to practise proceedings will normally be on hold until the workplace investigation or criminal proceedings have concluded.

Initial consideration

20. On receipt of the concern, the Dean of School (or equivalent) or their nominee, in consultation with the relevant Course Leader where appropriate and supported by OSACC, shall evaluate the risk to the protection of the public, clients and/or to the student and take such immediate action as is deemed appropriate in the circumstances to safeguard all relevant parties, but without prejudice to the outcome of the enquiry. This may include recommending to the Vice-Chancellor/Principal, in consultation with the Academic Registrar, that the student be suspended from practice placement and/or academic study and/or restrict the student's access to the Institution's premises pending the outcome of an investigation into the allegation. A student may be suspended at any time, and will be informed in writing of the suspension by the Vice-Chancellor/Principal. Any such suspension will be reviewed at each stage as the case progresses. Suspension is not a sanction and does not imply guilt; it is used only for the protection of patients, clients and/or the students.

21. If the Dean of School (or equivalent) or their nominee determines that there is no risk or that the risk is minor, the concern will be considered under the relevant School/partner's informal processes. The School/partner's informal processes will determine whether the course team should monitor the student or take no further action. It is the responsibility of the School/partner to ensure that processes are clearly documented and adequate records maintained of any actions agreed.

22. If the Dean of School (or equivalent) or their nominee determines that the risk may be moderate or major, the concern should proceed to the formal stage (part 1) for investigation by an Investigating Officer (or directly to formal stage (part 2) where the facts of the case have already been established through the conclusion of a case under the Student Discipline Procedure, Academic Misconduct Policy or Safeguarding Policy, or as a result of criminal proceedings or a workplace investigation).

Formal Stage (part 1)

23. Where a concern proceeds to the formal stage (part 1), the Dean of School or their nominee shall pass all relevant documents, along with an exact allegation, to OSACC, who will appoint a trained Investigating Officer in consultation with the Dean of School (or equivalent) or their nominee. The Investigating Officer appointed will be a registrant with the PSRB related to the student's programme of study wherever possible and if deemed necessary. The student's personal tutor/academic coach/supervisor and the originator of the cause for concern are not eligible to be appointed as the Investigating Officer.

24. Normally within five working days of receipt of the exact allegation from the Dean of School (or equivalent) or their nominee, OSACC will inform the student of the allegation made, the name of the Investigating Officer and the procedure for dealing with the allegation.

25. The student will be asked to submit a statement in response to the allegation along with any documentary evidence, where relevant, to OSACC within five working days of the date of the allegation letter. OSACC will pass this information to the Investigating Officer as soon as possible following receipt. Ideally this should be provided before the Investigating Officer meets with the student, but should a statement not be received within the deadline, the investigation will proceed without.

26. The Investigating Officer will assemble impartially the evidence relevant to the allegation and prepare a written report which shall not pass judgement for or against the student nor recommend a particular course of action.

27. In assembling such evidence, the Investigating Officer may interview those involved and shall consider any relevant records or other written information. Interviews may be conducted by telephone or virtually via video conferencing where appropriate. A representative from OSACC should normally be present to take the minutes of any meetings. As a matter of good practice, the student under investigation and others interviewed should be requested to read and sign minutes of their meeting(s) with the Investigating Officer to the effect that the statement represents a true record and to acknowledge that their statement will be shared with the student and the panel should the case proceed to formal stage (part 2).

28. The Investigating Officer when interviewing the student who is the subject of the concern shall explain the allegation and question the student in detail. The Investigating Officer shall inform the student beforehand that they may be accompanied by a friend. A friend is defined as a member of staff of the University of Suffolk or one of the University's partner institutions, or a registered student of the University, or a member of staff or sabbatical officer of the Students' Union. The friend may also be a representative of the union of the student's PSRB, if the student is a member. The role of the friend is to act as an observer, give moral support and to assist the student to make their case. The friend should not also be a witness to the alleged breach/incident. In addition, where reasonable adjustments are required, a student may be accompanied by a supporter e.g. a sign language communicator or a note-taker, and a student with difficulty in understanding English may be accompanied by an interpreter. Legal representation is not normally permitted, except in complex cases or cases where the consequences for the student are potentially very serious. If a student wishes to have legal representation, they should inform OSACC in advance of their request and the Academic Registrar will determine whether legal representation will be permitted.

29. The Investigating Officer will submit their report to OSACC, normally within twenty working days of the case being referred to them. If the investigation takes longer than this the student will be kept informed of progress.

30. On receipt, OSACC will forward a copy of the Investigating Officer's report to the Dean of School (or equivalent) or their nominee for consideration. If required, the Dean of School (or equivalent) or their nominee may request a meeting with the Investigating Officer to discuss any aspects of the report.

31. The Dean of School (or equivalent) or their nominee will consider the Investigating Officer's report and determine that either:

- there is not sufficient evidence to support the allegation against the student, in which case the Dean of School (or equivalent) or their nominee shall inform the student in writing via OSACC. In such cases, the Dean of School (or equivalent) or their nominee may request the course team to monitor the student in accordance with the School/partner's informal processes or implement an action plan, or there may be no further action;
- there is sufficient evidence to support the allegation against the student, but the concern can be addressed and monitored through action plans and regular meetings over a specified period of time. If concerns remain at the end of this review period, the case may proceed to Formal Stage (part 2) of this Procedure;
- there is sufficient evidence to support the allegation against the student, and therefore the case will proceed to Formal Stage (part 2) of this Procedure.

32. OSACC will inform the student of the outcome of Formal Stage (part 1) in writing (normally via email), including details of the next steps where applicable, and provide a copy of the Investigating Officer's report.

Formal Stage (part 2)

33. If a case proceeds to Formal Stage (part 2), OSACC will convene a Fitness to Practise Panel (FTPP) as soon as possible. Membership of the FTPP will be agreed by the Academic Registrar or their nominee.

34. The FTPP shall comprise:

- an Associate Dean or Dean of School (or equivalent) (Chair);
- three academics, with at least one registrant from a relevant PSRB with experience of fitness to practise issues who will be able to advise the FTTP with regard to PSRB requirements and standards of conduct. Neither the student's personal tutor/academic coach/adviser/supervisor nor the Investigating Officer shall be members of the FTTP
- one representative from a professional placement provider.

Membership of the FTTP may be amended as necessary to comply with the relevant PSRB requirements. When specialised input is necessary, others with the requisite knowledge may be co-opted with the agreement of the Chair of the FTTP in consultation with the Academic Registrar or their nominee, for example the Disability and Mental Health Adviser. A representative from OSACC will be Secretary and record the FTTP's decision and justification for that decision.

35. The Chair and members of the FTTP shall have had no previous involvement in the case. All panel members will receive training for the role and, wherever possible, membership of the FTTP will represent a diverse mix.

36. The student will be informed of the panel membership in advance. If the student wishes to object to a panel member, they should inform OSACC, in writing, as soon as possible and provide the reason for their objection. The Chair of the FTTP, in consultation with the Academic Registrar, will consider the objection and determine whether an alternative should be appointed. Where the objection is against the Chair, the decision will be made by the Academic Registrar.

37. The Dean of School (or equivalent) will inform OSACC who will present the case at the FTTP hearing (i.e. who will be the presenting officer). This will normally be the person who considered the investigating officer's report (see paragraph 31), and may be the Dean (or equivalent) themselves or their nominee. The Investigating Officer cannot act as the presenting officer.

38. OSACC will convene the FTTP hearing as soon as possible. The hearing may take place in person, virtually via video conferencing or a hybrid of both. OSACC will send the meeting details, along with copies of the evidence to members of the FTTP and to the presenting officer and the student concerned ten working days before the hearing.

39. The student and the presenting officer may nominate witness(es) and shall inform the Secretary of the name(s) at least five working days prior to the panel hearing. It is normally expected that the presenting officer will nominate the Investigating Officer as a witness. The decision of the Chair of the FTTP regarding witnesses to be called shall be final. In reaching a decision about witnesses to be called, the Chair will take into account their number and relevance to the matter in hand. The Secretary shall inform witnesses of the date, time and venue of the panel hearing but is not responsible for ensuring their attendance. The unavailability of witnesses shall not restrict or delay the panel hearing unless the Chair determines that their evidence may be material to the decision of the FTTP. Unavailable witnesses may submit a statement to the Secretary for consideration by the FTTP. Exceptionally, a witness may be accompanied by a friend as defined in paragraph 28.

40. The student may also provide the Secretary with a further statement concerning the allegation(s) against them and/or any additional written evidence as they consider relevant to the case. Such information should be submitted at least five working days before the hearing and will be circulated to the FTTP by the Secretary.

41. At least three working days before the hearing, the Secretary will send confirmation of the arrangements to the student, at both their institution email address and personal email address. This should include details of:

- the nature of the allegation
- membership of the FTTP
- the name of the presenter of the case
- the name(s) of any witness(es) called
- the date, time and place of the FTTP hearing

42. The conduct of the FTTP shall proceed as outlined in Appendix 3. The FTTP shall allow the student against whom allegations have been made to present their case in person and, if the student wishes, to be accompanied by a friend (as defined at paragraph 28) to help them in presenting their case to the FTTP.

43. The FTTP shall consider the oral and/or written evidence submitted by the presenting officer and any oral and/or written statement or evidence provided by the student. It shall have the power to seek such other evidence as it deems necessary and may be adjourned to allow for such evidence to be gathered.

44. The FTTP will operate on the principle of the balance of probability (i.e. it is more likely than not that something happened). The case will be deemed to be proven where this is the majority decision of the FTTP. Where there is a split decision, the outcome should fall in the student's favour.

45. If the FТПP decides that the fitness to practise allegation is unproven, it will dismiss the case and no further action will be taken against the student.

46. If the FТПP decides that the fitness to practise allegation is proven, it shall have the power to do any one of, or a combination of, the following:

- a. Permit the student to continue on the course with no further action required
- b. Permit the student to continue on the course with adjustments
- c. Issue a formal warning
- d. Discontinue the placement and make arrangements for locating an alternative placement if this is permitted under the relevant assessment regulations
- e. Require the student to intercalate from the course for a defined period of time with return subject to conditions
- f. Require the student to withdraw from the course because they are unfit to practise
- g. Impose such other action as it considers appropriate, provided that no such action requires or implies contravention of, or a concession or exemption under, the relevant assessment regulations
- h. Recommend consideration of a barring referral to the DBS (see paragraph 49) and/or reporting to the relevant PSRB.

47. The Secretary shall inform the student and Dean of School (or equivalent) in writing within five working days of the FТПP meeting, giving clear and detailed reasons for the decision and relevant next steps. The student shall be informed of the right to appeal against the decision of the FТПP in accordance with paragraphs 50 to 60 of this Procedure.

48. The Dean of School (or equivalent), in consultation with the Academic Registrar, shall consider whether the decision of the FТПP should be reported to the relevant placement provider, employer and/or PSRB before the period of appeal has elapsed.

49. The University has a legal duty to make a barring referral to the DBS where it thinks that a person has either:

- harmed or poses a risk of harm to a child or vulnerable adult;
- has satisfied the harm test; or
- has received a caution or conviction for a relevant offence;
- and
- the person being referred is, has been or might in future be, working in regulated activity; and
- the DBS may consider it appropriate for the person to be added to a barred list.

If the FPHP recommend referral to the DBS, the relevant information will be provided to the Designated Safeguarding Officer for consideration in consultation with the Dean of School (or equivalent) and Academic Registrar. No referral should be made until after the period of appeal has elapsed.

PROCEDURE FOR APPEALS AGAINST DECISIONS OF THE FITNESS TO PRACTISE PANEL

50. If a student wishes to appeal against a decision of the FPHP, a written statement setting out the grounds on which the appeal is being made (see paragraph 51) must be submitted to OSACC within five working days of the student having been informed of the decision of the FPHP. If no appeal is received within this timescale, the case will be closed and the student will be informed of this in writing. A completion of procedures letter may be provided at this point if the student requests one, but it will state that the student did not complete the University's internal processes.

51. The grounds on which an appeal against the decision of the FPHP can be considered are:

- the procedure was not followed properly;
- the FPHP did not make reasonable efforts to acquire all relevant information;
- that new evidence has become available that could not have reasonably been provided for the FPHP hearing and which could materially have affected the decision(s) of the FPHP;
- there was bias and/or reasonable perception of bias during the procedure and/or in the conduct of the FPHP hearing;
- the penalty imposed is not reasonable or proportionate to the offence or not permitted under the procedure.

52. In the event of an appeal, the Academic Registrar shall consider whether the grounds for appeal are covered by the provisions of paragraph 51 above and warrant further consideration by the Fitness to Practise Appeal Panel (FTPAP).

53. If the Academic Registrar determines that there are no grounds for further consideration of the appeal, the matter shall be referred to a senior representative of the awarding institution for consideration. If the senior representative of the awarding institution agrees that there are no grounds for further consideration, the Academic Registrar via OSACC shall inform the student in writing by issuing a completion of procedures letter within fifteen working days of receipt giving the reasons for that decision. This decision is final and there is no further right of appeal within the University. Students may be able to seek a review by the Office of the Independent Adjudicator (OIA) (see paragraph 61).

54. If the Academic Registrar or senior representative of the awarding institution determines that the appeal does warrant further consideration, the Academic Registrar shall appoint a FTPAP.

55. The FTPAP shall comprise:

- Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Chair) or nominee
- one academic who has had no previous involvement in the case (was not a member of the FTPP) but who is a registrant of the relevant PSRB
- one academic from the relevant subject area from the awarding institution
- one representative from the placement provider who was not a member of the FTPP and not associated with the teaching of the student

A representative from OSACC will be Secretary to the FTPAP and record the FTPAP's decision and justification for that decision.

56. The FTPAP shall carry out a review of all documents considered by the FTPP, together with the written statement submitted by the student setting out the grounds for the appeal. The FTPAP shall not proceed by way of a re-hearing but shall have the power to require the presentation of such further evidence as it deems necessary. The student will be informed of when the FTPAP will meet but will not be present.

57. The FTPAP shall have the same powers as the FTPP and may confirm the decision of the FTPP or substitute such other decision as it considers appropriate.

58. When the FTPAP has reached its decision, the Secretary shall inform the student in writing through the issue of a completion of procedures letter, copied to the Dean of School (or equivalent) and Academic Registrar, within five days of the FTPAP meeting.

59. If any action had been taken under paragraph 48 above to inform the relevant PSRB, the Dean of School (or equivalent) and the Academic Registrar shall decide whether any further report should be made to the placement provider or PSRB concerned in the light of the decision of the FTPAP.

60. The decision of the FTPAP is final and there is no further right to appeal. Students may be able to seek a review by the OIA (see paragraph 61)

Further right to appeal

61. Students who are dissatisfied with the outcome of their appeal and the decision of the FTPAP may be able to seek a review by the OIA should the case be eligible under the OIA's rules (see <http://www.oiahe.org.uk/>). Details will be provided in the completion of procedures letter advising the student of the final outcome of their appeal.

Monitoring and Evaluation

62. The University of Suffolk will monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the Fitness to Practise Procedure and reflect upon the outcomes for enhancement purposes. A report will be submitted annually to the Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Committee, the Quality Committee and Senate. The report will include equality monitoring data.

Record keeping

63. The University will keep proportionate records of all fitness to practise proceedings and outcomes for up to 50 years. In accordance with the OIA Good Practice Framework, records will be kept even when the proceedings result in no action being taken against the student. This is because behaviour or concerns that were not considered serious enough to need any action at the time may be relevant in later proceedings should the student behave in a similar way again or if other concerns are raised. A record will be kept even if the student is completely exonerated in case a dispute later arises about the proceedings or outcome. Details will only be disclosed in exceptional circumstances and following consultation with the Academic Registrar.

ADDITIONAL ACTION FOR ALLEGED CRIMINAL ACTIVITY OR MATTERS RELATING TO THE PROTECTION OF CHILDREN AND VULNERABLE ADULTS

The following applies where the alleged concerns of fitness to practise, if substantiated, would also constitute an offence under criminal law and/or concerns a reportable child or vulnerable adult protection matter.

- If the alleged offence is reported to the Police, the Academic Registrar and/or Dean of School (or equivalent) may decide to defer action until the Police and courts have dealt with the matter. In cases where there is a child or vulnerable adult protection issue, the matter will be reported in accordance with the Safeguarding Policy and no investigatory action will be undertaken until advice from the appropriate authority has been received.
- In such cases, no internal disciplinary action other than suspension from the Institution will normally be taken until either a prosecution has been completed or a decision not to prosecute has been taken or, in the case of child or vulnerable adult protection matters, advice has been received from the appropriate authority that an investigation is appropriate.
- The Institution has the right to report any criminal offence to the Police or any child or vulnerable adult protection matter to the relevant authority and will normally do so when the offence is judged by the Vice-Chancellor/Principal or Safeguarding Officer as serious, or reportable in relation to child or vulnerable adult protection issues according to the Safeguarding Policy.
- When an allegation of fitness to practise is proven under this procedure, and a student has also been sentenced by a criminal court on the same facts, the penalty imposed by the criminal court will also be taken into account in deciding the penalty under this procedure.
