

Legacy Pledge Form

Thank you for considering remembering the University of Suffolk in your will.

If you have chosen to recognise, or intend to recognise, the University of Suffolk in your will, we would be most grateful if you let us know. This is not a legally binding commitment, and you may change your mind about your legacy at any time.

You do not need to share your intentions with us but doing so helps the University with its long-term planning and allows us to thank you personally. It also enables us to fully understand your wishes.

By pledging a legacy to the University of Suffolk, you are automatically welcomed as a member of our Wolsey Circle, a group that recognises those who have pledged to support the University through their will. Benefits include a personalised thank you from the Vice-Chancellor, special edition gift and invitation to an exclusive annual event.
